These charges are already included in the fund's price, so they aren't shown in your transactions. You can see details of your account charges including all management charges in your transaction history and all dealing related charges, including any government charges, in your contract notes. For further information on investment charges please get in touch. A detailed breakdown of charges is available on request.

Your SIPP is now being 'lifestyled'. Lifestyling is a process that adjusts the risk balance of your pension investments as you approach retirement, helping to shelter your investments from falls in the stock market while still offering the potential for some growth when markets rise. It all happens automatically, but you can take control of your investments at any time. As part of lifestyling, the risk balance of your pension funds is gradually adjusted during the 10 years approaching your retirement age. However, if you joined your pension scheme with less than 10 years to your retirement age, lifestyling takes place over a shorter term. During lifestyling, a proportion of your current fund investments are sold automatically each month and the proceeds are reinvested.

As Hargreaves Lansdown provides a Group SIPP, there is an Independent Governance Committee (IGC) whose role is to protect the interests of members and importantly, to ensure they receive value for money. 3. How much your SIPP could be worth by your chosen retirement age

Your SIPP could be worth
£87,900

This is an illustration of what you might get if you turned it into a guaranteed income for life – an annuity.

You could get
a month of annuity income.

Keep in mind that you don't have to use your SIPP to buy an annuity. Instead you might decide to keep your pension invested and take lump sum withdrawals or an income via drawdown. You can also use a mix of these options to match your needs. If you'd like us to send you more information on any of these options please call us on 0117 980 9926 or visit www.hl.co.uk/retirement.

The illustration is an estimate and is not a promise or a guarantee of how much you could receive. The amounts used are expressed in today's money. This means we've used assumptions around how much your fund will grow by and how that future value will be eroded by inflation. Further details of the assumptions used can be found below and in the accompanying Additional Notes document. The value of your SIPP and the income you're able to get in future could be higher or lower than shown. You can also contact us if you have any questions regarding the information provided.

Please note, this illustration is just for your SIPP and doesn't include any other sources of income, such as State Pension.

Pension Wise is also a free, impartial government service offered through MoneyHelper for anyone aged 50 or over, with a UK-based personal or workplace pension. It can help you to understand what type of pensions you have, how you can access your savings and the potential tax implications of each option. But it isn't financial advice. Assumptions used

- No regular contributions are made to your SIPP.
- You will retire at your chosen retirement age, stated on page 1.
- When you retire, you will not take tax-free cash and will use all of your SIPP to provide a monthly annuity income.
- Inflation will be 2.50% a year.
- The overall growth rate used for your portfolio is 4.20%. We've used different growth rates and charges for different types of investment. Further details are in the accompanying Additional Notes on page 3.
- We do not charge a fee for holding cash or for cash transactions. HL expects to receive interest of between 0.5% below and 0.5% above the prevailing Bank of England base rate over the next 12 months on cash balances held in the SIPP Trustee Bank Accounts. HL retains the difference between the interest HL receives and the interest credited to your SIPP. We have assumed a retained level of interest of 0.75% for the purpose of this illustration. Please see the HL SIPP Key Features for more details.
- When you retire, your annuity income will be paid to you for life, will be guaranteed for 5 years, will remain at the same level and will be paid monthly in advance.

Other factors which may have an impact

- When and how you choose to access benefits from your SIPP, including any underlying annuity features (e.g. a pension for your spouse/civil partner).
- Any contributions you make in future.
- Your investments and their performance.
- Annuity rates at the time you retire.
- The costs triggered by your SIPP.
- The rate of inflation.
- Your tax-free cash entitlement (usually up to 25%) and how much you decide to take.

4. What you can do to boost the value of your SIPP before retirement

By adding an extra £100
each month.

Your estimated fund value at retirement, in today's money, would be £93,400.

That's an additional £5,500 in your SIPP, which could give you an extra £33.00
a month of annuity income.

Delaying your retirement by 5 years, and continuing to add an extra £100.00 each month, means the value of your SIPP could be £99,900 at retirement which could give you £663.00 a month of annuity income.

This is a guide as to what your SIPP could be worth in future; it is not a promise or guarantee. This is in today's money, and takes into account the effect of inflation on the buying power of your pension. Before adding any more money, please read the Key Features including the Contribution Checklist, and remember money in a pension isn't usually accessible until age 55 (57 from 2028).

5. Do you have any questions or need help?

Please remember that your Annual Statement, including illustrations, is not intended to be personal financial advice. Before taking action on the basis of information contained in your Annual Statement, you should seek further information and/or personal advice.

ADDITIONAL NOTES

How we calculate how much your SIPP could be worth

Page 2 of your Annual Statement shows how much your SIPP could be worth by your chosen retirement age. It's in today's prices and estimates the potential value and income. To calculate this, we assume certain growth rates and charges for your investments. You may choose to change how your SIPP is invested in future which will affect the actual return and the charges you pay.

Assumed growth rates

We put each investment into a volatility group, usually based on how much and how quickly its price changed over a period of time.

Each volatility group has an assumed growth rate set by the Financial Reporting Council. Less volatile investments have a lower assumed growth rate. More volatile ones have a higher assumed growth rate.

The following table shows the assumed growth rate for each volatility group. Your portfolio's actual growth rate may be higher or lower.

VOLATILITY GROUP	ASSUMED GROWTH RATE (%)
Group 1 (less volatile)	2.00
Group 2	4.00
Group 3	6.00
Group 4 (more volatile)	7.00

The overall growth rate used on page 2 is composed of these assumed growth rates.

If you would like to see the volatility group for each of your investments, please contact 0117 980 9926. For help understanding your statement, visit www.hl.co.uk/smpi.

For further information on the SIPP funds available and their charges please visit www.hl.co.uk/funds.

Assumed SIPP contributions

SIPP payments made by cheque, BACS or debit card are assumed to be one off. Outstanding basic-rate tax relief on recent contributions is included in the cash value in your Annual Statement.

Where monthly contributions are being made, the calculation includes basic-rate tax relief to be reclaimed and credited to your SIPP. Monthly contributions set up to start after the end of the month in which the illustration date falls are not included.

The projection does not include any higher rates of tax relief that may be available to you.

Tax rules can change and any benefits will depend on your personal circumstances.

Please remember that this statement is NOT a promise or guarantee that a pension will be paid at the rate shown. Actual rates of return may be higher or lower. You may choose to change the way your SIPP is invested in future which will affect the actual return and the charges you pay.

Have you completed an expression of wish? Is it up to date?

An expression of wish allows you to tell us what you would like to happen to your SIPP if you die. We encourage all our SIPP clients to make one as, whilst not legally binding, it helps us decide to whom your SIPP should be paid and can help us pay it more quickly. The easiest way is on our website: log in at www.hl.co.uk and select 'Account Settings' then 'Manage SIPP beneficiaries'. Otherwise you can download a form at www.hl.co.uk/expression-form or request one from our Pensions Helpdesk on 0117 980 9926. Please remember to regularly review your expression of wish to ensure it reflects any changes in your circumstances or wishes.

Lump Sum Allowance, Lump Sum Death Benefit Allowance, and the Overseas Transfer Allowance

The government announced that the lifetime allowance would be abolished from 6 April 2024 and replaced with three new allowances – the lump sum allowance, the lump sum and death benefit allowance, and the overseas transfer allowance.

The standard value for the new allowances will be:

- Lump sum allowance – £268,275
- Lump sum and death benefit allowance – £1,073,100
- Overseas transfer allowance – £1,073,100

Your allowances may be different if you hold lifetime allowance protection and/or an enhancement factor.

Only the tax-free element of certain lump sum payments will use up your lump sum and/or lump sum and death benefit allowances.

The overseas transfer allowance is a separate allowance that will be used up by the value of transfers to Qualifying Recognised Overseas Pension Schemes (QROPS).

Please note that any pension benefits taken and lifetime allowance used before 6 April 2024 may impact your remaining allowances.
