Guidance for completing table 9

9.A If you are employed take the figure from your most recent payslip. If you are self-employed you need to calculate the monthly average from the figures on your most recent HMRC tax statement.

9.B In this section, most state benefits are tax-free (see https://www.gov.uk/income-tax/taxfree-and-taxable-state-benefits for a full list).

9.F Add the total of all income in each column.

9.G If one party is paying child support or maintenance, subtract the amount from their column (showing a minus sign) and add this to the column of the person receiving the payment.

Example:

Applicant	Respondent	Child(ren)
+£500	−£500	N/A

9.H See 9.G's example for spousal maintenance between parties. It is presented in the same way.

9.I Add up the total value of each column in 9.G and 9.H.

Example:

	Applicant	Respondent
G	+£500	−£500
H	+£350	−£350
I (Sub-total)	+£850	−£850

9.J Please state any child support or maintenance received from a person who is not party to the proceedings e.g., a former spouse or partner and whether paid under a formal agreement or an informal arrangement.

9.K Please state any child support or maintenance made by either party to a person or child who is not party to the proceedings e.g., former spouse or partner. Please show a 'minus' sign from the payer's column.

9.L Calculate the total value of 9.J + 9.K. Remember that 9.K will be a negative figure.

9.M Add up the values you have calculated in 9.F, 9.I and 9.L.

Capital and income after the implementation of proposed order

This section needs to show the impact of the proposed order on the capital and income. Use additional sheets if necessary.

If you wish, you can include a net effect calculation from a spreadsheet on an additional sheet showing the financial outcome of the consent order.

Tables at 10 and 11 must show what the capital and income position would be if the proposed consent order is made.

If the application is made only for an order for interim maintenance, please go to question 11 (net income).

12. Are there any other matters relating to the proposed consent order that the court should consider?

☑ Yes, there are

See continuation sheet: Question 12.

☐ No

Question 12: For example, medical conditions, change of employment, any significant change in circumstances, or an agreement already reached between you (e.g. a pre-nuptial agreement, a post-nuptial agreement or a separation agreement).

If you have a pension valuation which is different from the cash equivalent value set out at Questions 8 and 10 at Row F, please set it out here. If your state pension is not in payment set out brief details here of your expected entitlement.

13. Please explain concisely the main reasons for your proposed consent order's division of assets (e.g. meeting a particular housing or other need, dividing assets equally, dividing assets unequally for a particular reason or making an assessment of higher or lower earning capacity)

The Applicant's proposal (not yet agreed).

The parties were married for 27 years (together for about 40). The Applicant proposes an equal division of the capital: Property 1 is repaired under the existing subsidence claim and sold, the joint debts are repaid from the proceeds, and the net proceeds are divided equally. Each party keeps their own pension. On the figures so far the pensions are broadly similar (Applicant £220,788; Respondent about £195,508, to be confirmed by formal valuations), so no pension sharing order is proposed, subject to those valuations. Each party keeps their own personal debts.

Question 13: If your proposed consent order offsets pension assets against capital assets, please explain briefly how the offsetting agreement has been reached. Offsetting means that one party keeps all or part of their pension in exchange for the other party keeping or receiving other non-pension assets.

14. If maintenance claims would be dismissed by the proposed consent order (i.e. there is to be a clean break), explain briefly how each party will support themselves.

The Applicant's proposal (not yet agreed).

Applicant: from his salary (£6,075 a month net). He rents his home, and will have about £105,000 of capital after the sale, his pensions (about £220,788) and, in due course, his state pension.

Respondent: from her employment income (about £1,587 a month net, as reported by the Respondent; to be confirmed), about £104,000 of capital from the sale of Property 1, her own pensions (TBC; about £195,508 on her own figures, two of which are final-salary schemes) and, in due course, her state pension.

15. Tell us where you, your spouse and children (if applicable) will live, and the basis on which each property will be occupied (e.g. owner, tenant etc.). If the children live with both parties give their primary address or state in the 'Address' column below if they live equally with both parties.

	Address	Basis of occupation of property
Applicant Rupert Giles Thomas	19 Westgate Street, Long Melford, Suffolk CO10 9DS	Tenant (rented)
Respondent Heather Thomas	To be decided. The Applicant proposes that Property 1 is sold.	To be decided

About this working copy

This is the Applicant's working copy, prepared to share figures with the Respondent and with his solicitor. It is not yet for filing with the court.

TBC means the figure is for the Respondent to complete. The Applicant has not entered figures on her behalf.

Question 10, Row B (Respondent): £103,774 is the Respondent's half of the net proceeds from the proposed sale of Property 1 (see the continuation sheet for Questions 10 and 11). It does not include any savings, debts or pensions of her own, which are TBC.

Questions 10 and 11 show the Applicant's proposal. They have not yet been agreed.

Continuation sheet: Questions 10 and 11 (position after the proposed order)

These figures show the Applicant's proposal. They have not yet been agreed with the Respondent.

1. Property 1. The Applicant proposes that Property 1 is repaired under the existing subsidence insurance claim and then sold, with the net proceeds divided equally. Estimated position on sale:
Sale price (Michaels Property Consultants, post-repair valuation, 13 June 2026): £550,000
Less RBS mortgage (30 September 2026): £309,748.40
Less estimated sale costs (estate agent, conveyancing, EPC): £9,000
Less subsidence claim excess: £1,000
Less joint debts, cleared from the proceeds: £22,702.95
Net proceeds: £207,548.65, of which each party receives half: £103,774.32

2. Timing. The proceeds cannot be realised until the subsidence repairs are complete. Repairs cannot start until monitoring shows the house is stable, so the sale is expected to take place some time after the order is made, realistically not before mid-to-late 2027. The final figures will depend on the actual sale price, the mortgage balance at completion and the joint debts outstanding at that time.

3. Pensions. Row F assumes each party keeps their own pensions (no pension sharing order). This is still under consideration.

4. Income (Question 11). The Applicant's income is unchanged by the proposed order. No spousal maintenance is proposed (clean break). The Applicant would continue to contribute £200 a month towards Lucy's food.

Continuation sheet: Question 12 (other matters)

1. Interim payments. Pending settlement, the Applicant pays 80% of the joint costs of Property 1 (mortgage interest, buildings insurance, council tax, home emergency cover) and 80% of the repayments on the joint credit cards: £2,166.51 a month (October 2026: mortgage interest £1,447.62; insurance, council tax and home emergency cover £230.02; credit card repayments £488.87). He also pays £200 a month towards Lucy's food. These payments are not spousal maintenance.

2. Applicant's own housing costs. On top of the above, the Applicant pays the rent on his home (19 Westgate Street, Long Melford), £1,000 a month, and all its household bills, about £420-£470 a month (council tax £152, water £77, gas and electricity about £137-£186, broadband, TV licence, insurance). His partner makes minimal, ad hoc contributions.

3. Subsidence. Property 1 has an active subsidence insurance claim (liability accepted by the insurer on 11 May 2026). Repairs cannot start until monitoring shows the house is stable, so timing is uncertain. The as-is value at Question 8 reflects this.

4. Mortgage. The RBS mortgage balance (£309,748.40 at 30 September 2026) is £1,380.40 over the agreed facility limit of £308,368.

5. Pension held in trust. The Applicant's Prudential (Objective IT) pension is held under trust. The Respondent (under her maiden name, Heather Jeffrey) is a co-trustee.

6. State pension. The Applicant's state pension is not yet in payment. His projected entitlement is £1,042 a month.
