Your Post Office Home insurance policy is due for renewal

Dear HEATHER

Thank you for insuring your home with us for the last year.

Our Home insurance is underwritten by Ageas Insurance Limited; you also have access to our Legal Helplines Service. This gives support and advice on a range of topics.

As you have chosen to pay for your Home insurance policy by Direct Debit this means you'd pay 1 monthly payment of £71.96 , followed by 10 monthly payments of £66.96.[†] Your total amount payable this year will be £741.52. This includes insurance premium tax, a £86.25 charge for Finance and the APR is 26.1%.

Instead, you can choose to make a single payment of £655.27 by calling the Customer Services Team.

If you have made any changes or had a claim in the last 12 months, this may affect the price and the excess you are asked to pay.

We should tell you that you may be able to get your insurance at a better price if you shop around and compare quotes. As a valued customer, we hope our insurance still meets your needs. The decision is yours, but of course we'd love you to stay with us.

Your policy is due to automatically renew on 04/05/2026, so you don't need to do anything for your insurance cover to continue.

Important changes for Post Office Home Insurance policyholders

We need to let you know about some changes to your existing Post Office policy.

- DAS Legal Expenses Insurance Company Limited (DAS) have been bought by ARAG and changed their name to ARAG Legal Expenses Insurance Company Limited.

They are the providers of the Legal Helplines Service that is included in all our home insurance policies. They also underwrite and provide the claims handling service for the additional Home Emergency and Family Legal Protection products which you may have bought as additional cover.

(Please check your Policy summary document to see if you have these products included.)

What does the change in name mean? That any references to 'DAS' have been replaced with 'ARAG'.

- Home Emergency cover, provided by ARAG, does not pay claims for an incident at a property that you rent or let or that you own but is not your main residence.

What does this mean?

- If you have purchased this cover previously it has now been removed from your policy from the renewal date.
- You have not been charged for Home Emergency from renewal.

It is very important you read and understand these changes as it may affect you if you wish to contact ARAG and make a claim.

This notice explains the changes and should be read alongside the Policy Booklet, ARAG Legal Helplines Service document, Home Insurance Terms and Conditions and your Policy summary.

The Policy booklet can be viewed online via www.postoffice.co.uk/home-insurance and your Policy summary is enclosed.

Please ensure that this policy still meets your needs.

If you have queries on this or any of your renewal policy documentation, please contact the Post Office Customer Service Team on 0333 443 9849.*
