M&S Credit Card statement summary box

The information contained in this table summarises the key product features not displayed elsewhere on the statement and is not intended to replace any terms and conditions.

Interest-free period	Maximum 55 days for purchases if you pay your transaction balance in full and on time.
Interest charging information	We won't charge interest on any purchases shown in a statement if you pay the full transaction balance by the payment due date. Otherwise, the period over which interest is charged will be:
		From	Until
	Purchases, cash advances and balance or money transfers	Date charged to your account	Paid in full
Allocation of payments	We apply your payments in a certain order if the amount you pay in a month is less than the full amount you owe. We explain the order below: 1. To any overdue minimum payments (we call these 'arrears') 2. To the minimum payment for that month 3. To any monthly instalment (or instalments) and instalment plan fees 4. To the rest of the transaction balance. You can find that amount in your statement 5. To any transactions, interest or charges that haven't yet been included in your statement 6. To any instalment plan balances that are left. In each case we apply payments first to amounts that we charge the highest interest rate on before we apply them to amounts charged at lower rates or zero interest. We always pay off interest and charges first. Sometimes amounts are charged at the same interest rate. If that's the case, we'll apply your payment to the oldest amounts first.
Minimum repayment	If you entered into your agreement with us before 23 March 2011 the minimum payment will be the higher of:	A. 2.5% of the full amount you owe B. £5
	If you entered into your agreement with us from 23 March 2011 onwards, the minimum payment will be the higher of:	A. The total amount of: (a) interest added to the account since your last statement; plus (b) any default charges (this is a charge that applies where you've broken the agreement, for example, you pay late); plus (c) 1% of the rest of the amount you owe. B. 2.5% of the full amount you owe. C. £5.

How interest is charged

On purchases

We don't charge interest on purchases if you pay your balance in full by the due date (and you've also paid the previous month's balance in full by that due date). If you do not pay the balance in full, we charge interest on all transactions from the date they were added to the account (not just on the unpaid balance).

On cash transactions and balance or money transfers

Cash transactions include taking out cash, buying travellers' cheques, foreign currency, purchasing money orders and other similar payments. Interest will be charged from the date each transaction is added to your account, even if you pay the balance in full each month, until the transaction (including interest) is paid in full.

Estimated interest

This is an estimate of the interest you'll have to pay next month. It assumes: 1) you only pay the minimum due, 2) you pay on the due date, 3) you have no more balance or money transfers or cash advances before your next statement, 4) you don't change your statement date, and 5) your interest rate doesn't change. Remember, if you make only the minimum payment each month it will take you longer and cost you more to clear your balance.

Daily interest

Interest is charged on a daily basis, so the amount of interest payable will increase the longer payment is delayed, even if payment is made before the due date. Payments will take effect when they are actually received by us as cleared funds.

Recurring transaction

A recurring transaction, sometimes called a continuous payment authority, is a series of payments you agree to be collected from your card by a retailer or supplier (for example, insurance cover). This is an agreement between you and the retailer. The Direct Debit Guarantee doesn't cover these transactions. If you wish to cancel a recurring transaction, you can do this with the retailer or with us. If you contact the retailer you will also be able to deal with the agreement you have with them. This should ensure the retailer will not collect any further payments. If they do we will treat these as unauthorised. If we miss any of the cancelled transactions, please contact us.

How much to pay and when

You may pay any amount from the minimum payment to the full balance on your statement. Please ensure your payment reaches us by the due date, shown overleaf, or a charge may be made in accordance with your terms and conditions. Any amount overdue or overlimit must be paid immediately. All payments will only take effect when they are actually received by us as cleared funds. If you are experiencing financial difficulties and can't meet your payments or a different payment date would be more convenient for you, please call us on 0345 900 0900

Checking your statement

Please keep all vouchers and till receipts when you use your card(s) and check them against your monthly statement. If there's a transaction on your statement which you believe is incorrect, please notify us straight away by calling 0345 900 0900

Minimum payments

If you make only the minimum payment each month, it will take you longer and cost you more to clear your balance.

If the account is not fully cleared, interest will be charged on the total value of the statement and not just on the outstanding balance. Interest is charged daily and therefore the earlier we receive your payment the less interest you will be charged.

If you are unable to make the minimum payment, please let us know by chatting with us in digital banking or calling 0345 900 0900 as soon as possible.
